Multi-award winning artists Gina Jeffreys, Beccy Cole and Sara Storer have announced dates for what is being hailed as the concert tour of 2007.

"Songbirds" is the brainchild of the girls themselves.

They have been friends for some time and through the years have also guested on each others live shows and recordings, so it seemed to be a natural step for them put together a concept where they could share the stage along with some of their individual songs.

Beccy, Gina and Sara are of course three of Australia's most acclaimed and successful country music singers. Between them they have 24 Golden Guitar Awards along with a haul of ARIAs, Entertainer of the Year, APRA's and certified Gold and Platinum sales awards.

Audiences can not only expect to hear the hit songs from three of the most beautiful individual voices on any stage, any where, but will also be treated to some very special "trio" performances of songs chosen by the girls from their own album collections.

It's now more than a decade since Gina Jeffreys won the Toyota Star Maker Quest, marking the start of a remarkable career that's taken Gina to the top of the country music industry.

She has earned numerous accolades, performed to sell-out crowds and sold volumes of records.

But the release of an exquisite new album, 'Walks Of Life', heralds a new chapter in the Gina Jeffreys story. Produced by husband Rod McCormack, 'Walks Of Life' showcases a new vocal maturity on a collection of songs that are near and dear to Gina's heart.

There's no disputing that Beccy Cole is the reigning poster girl of Australian country music.

In January, Beccy's latest hit single, the heartfelt and honest "Poster Girl (Wrong Side of the World)", swept all before it to take out a remarkable three Golden Guitars at country's most prestigious awards. The hat trick of Golden Guitars is the latest in a long string of successes for Beccy, whose talents as a singer, songwriter and performer have taken her to the forefront of Australian country music over the past year.

This dynamic, appealing singer has it all: personality, a style of her own, enormous talent as both a songwriter and a performer, and oceans of charisma!

Sara Storer is undoubtedly one of Australia's most unique singer / songwriters. She defies categorization!

Since bursting onto the Australian Music scene just seven years ago with her critically acclaimed album, Chasing Buffalo, Sara has gone onto become one of the most awarded artists in Australian country music history. In 2004 she took out 7 Golden Guitars for her now platinum selling album, Beautiful Circle. She now has 9 Golden Guitars in her collection.

In 2005 Sara released her third album, Firefly and toured Australia with legendary Paul Kelly.

Recently Sara has been writing for her highly anticipated 4th album which is expected to be released in the second half of 2007.
